MERTING OF BOLTERS.

A Secting is Collect and Seld-Singu-iar Ruling of the Chairman - He Bales Sympathy with the Cause of the Bolters the Condition of Partici. pation in the "Bass" Meeting-A Bigger Secting is Held on the Adjournment of the "Mass" Meeting.

For three or four weeks it has been known that strong exceptions were taken by certain gentlemen of this city, belonging to the Union party, to two candidates nominsted by the Union Convention of the county, in September last. We have seen the working of the political leaven not only in a small Union party or clique, but in Democratic circles. Copperheads about town have given mysterious shrugs of the shoulders, wise winks and certain other indications that a big thing was about to ba developed. The child was born last night, several gentlemen assuming the role of midwife, who helped nature so much that the child can't survive the election. A mass meeting had been called in Lyman's Hall by soveral scores of Union electors, to different forms, he had never found it | who "believed that the public welfare will be subserved by the substitution of better men for some of the nominees of the Union County Ticket."

At the appointed hour a large number of citizens assembled, and the meeting was organized by appointing Joseph Perkins, Esq., Chairman, and Mr. E. A. Pope, Sec-

On taking the chair, Mr. Perkins made a peech, stating the object of the meeting and dwelling on the importance of being represented by worthy men.

On the conclusion of his remarks, J. E. Incersoll, Esq., made a motion, which was seconded, that W. H. Browster, Enq., be substituted for D. A. Dangler, Esq., as candidate for the office of Representative, and sustained his motion in a brief speech. of four hundred scholars. Their meetings Mr. T.H. Oakley essayed to address the con. vention, but exceptions were taken to his speaking, as it was known that he was opopposed to the schism of the party. He was, however, sustained by the house, and managed to say his say, which bere strongly against the action of the discontented > Charles Stetson, Esq., gained the floor next, and stated that he had signed the call under misapprehension of its real nature and consequences, and desired to erase it It is too late now to take such action. The division would have a tendency, if not the effect, to throw the election in the county, in favor of the Democracy. His remarks were greeted with tremendous applause.

J. E. Ingersoll, Esq., then came forward and defined his position. The question is, he said, Do the men on the ticket represent us? He declared that, for one, Mr. Dangler was not a man that he or the signers of the call could vote for; and all these signers are thoroughly loyal men, who know what they are about. They proposed to have a man nominated there and then, to whom there can be no objection.

At this point Bashnell White, Erd., gained the floor, and simed apparently to make a concillating speech, saying that he was an old Whig, and now neither a Republican nor Democrat, and wondering why we cannot mille. We are embarked in a common cause after putting down the rebellion. J. G. Graham, A. C. Hert, B. F. Humiston, J. C. Jennings, B. Pelton.

He had voted for McGiellan for President, thinking him the better Union man, but that is past now. Lot us now forget party and candidates, as such, and vote for those who are loyal, regardless of other considerations. There was no objection raised by the chair to his speaking, although he sympsthired with neither head nor tail, but when John A. Foote, Erq., announced that he came at the request of Mr. Porter, to cause the crature of the latter's name from the call, Mr. Ingersoll called him to order, faith in this enterprise, and doubted not on the ground that he did not sympathize changing horses when crossing a stream. We must be jealous of every advantage which the Democracy may pluck from our ler, Esq , when it was suggested that all the sympathizers of the callers take one side of the hall, and the opponents, the other, which was accordingly done. About fifty nien gathered as a forlorn hope on one side, while full four hundred thronged the opposite side of the hall.

J. E. Ingersoll moved that an Executive Committee of five be appointed by the Chair to carry out the designs of the meeting. The committee consists of Messrs, J. Ingersoll, W. J. Boardman, J. Caufield, C. D. Everett, G. N. Abbay.

The factionists then broke ranks. But Hon. John A. Foots was immediately called to the chair by the hundreds who enposed the objects of the " mass" meeting, and Hon. Wm. Slade and Mr. Charles Statson were appointed Vice Presidents, and J. M. Sterling, Esq., Secretary. Mr. Siade, on being called for, made a few general remarks of congratulation on the restoration of peace. Mr. Oakley offered the following resolu-

Resolved, That in the opinion of this neeting it is the duty of all Union men to rote for the men nominated at the Union County Convention, held in this city in Resolved, That we endorse and will at the coming election vote for and sustain said nominees.

Resolved That we regard it unwise and impelitic for this meeting to put in nomina-tion any candidate to be supported at the oming election.

Mr. Oakley advocated the resolutions in s speech which evoked a good deal of enthusiesm. He spoke in terms of warmest praise of the manner in which Mr. Castle labered for the election of Mr. Lincoln. As to Mr. Dangler, he was not the speaker's choice. He voted sghinst him in the Convention; but since he was the choice of that body, he should give the nominee his cordial support, as a matter of policy and right.

His speech was well received, as were the remarks of the President, and at the close of the latter the meeting adjourned. To any one present, who had half an eye, it was apparent that the meeting will have a most beneficial effect in behalf of the Union ticket, as the effort at producing a schism, cheered on by the Democrats, proved utterly abortive, and left the factionists and nocrats with nothing but fless in their ears, while the steadfast party are all the more firmly rooted in the falth.

ACADENT OF MUNIC.-Another very fine nudience graced the Academy of Music last evening to witness the first represen tation in this city, of "Corporal Cartocche." The play embraced in its production nearly the entire strength of the company, the chief character, that of the Corporal, being of course in the bands of Mr. Couldock. Without undertaking tod stail the plot or character of the play, we may remark in a general way that to our mind it is one of the least interesting and entertaining of the modern school of dramatic literature. A few clever situations there are, but the play in its entirety is weak and flimsy in construction, improbable in most of the events developed, and dull in execution. The part ter will clear for Detroit this morning, on of Corporal Cartouche is totally inadequate to the ability of Mr. Couldock, and his best efforts cannot bring it up to the standard will be on board, and a small party of invit- expected of him. In the second act he is stricken dumb, and appears in pantomime supervision of Captain Gilbert Knapp and until near the close-a condition in which his peculiar and extraordinary powers are of no avail, and for which the best panto-mimic display would be but poor compensation. The rendition of the play, with the exception of one or two characters, was all FINANCIAL & COMMERCIAL.

ON UNIVERSITY HEIGHTS.

The ceremony of laying the corner-stone of a Congregational Church on the Heights. was performed yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large congregation of ladies

The exercises were opened with readings from the Scriptures by the Rev. Messra. Brewster and Day, and the delivery of a fervent prayer by the Rev. Mr. McKnight. few remarks on the history of the Church uniting on profession of faith. The gation had been made up of different branches, accustomed to worship according ing. This he said to the honor of religion and Congregationalism. The fact demonmonstrates the folly of attempting to maintain a feeble Congregational Church, and a feeble Methodist Church, and a feeble Presbyterian Church. They could conlesce and

The work of building this has been devolved upon them by God, and he would sustain them in it. After the Doxology-in the singing of which all joined-the exercises were closed with the Benediction, invoked by the Rov. Mr. Peck. The new Church is situated on University Heights, at the corner of Park street and Jenning's avenue. The walls will be erected in the course of four or five weeks, and the society will be able to use the basement during the coming winter. The edifice will be completed in the spring. Its estimated cost is $12,000. We under-range from $25 to $1,000. Sab Accident.-A boy about thirteen years of age, son of Mrs. Daniel Eckert, a widow lady living on Kinsman street, fell from a chestnut tree in the woods near Haltnorth's Beer Gardens, yesterday afternoon, and sustained very severe injuries. A party of four sportsmen of this city were hooting at target in the same woods, when a boy ran up to them and said a boy had fallen from a high tree. They immediately went to the relief of the lad, finding him in what they thought a dying state. Procuring a board they bore him toward the street railroad. Arriving at the lockedgate of a high picket fence, they sent a messenger to the saloon of the beer gardens to procure the key. "Dutch Chris," the man in attendance, refused to give them exit from the park, and they were obliged to lift the suffering boy over two very high fences and take a circuitous route to reach the cars. They finally got him aboard a car, and soon laid him down in his home.

that could be expected. Miss Couldock was very good in her impersonation, and deserved the applause she received. The play is announced for repetition this AN BE HAD, AND NO DWELLINGS CAN BE RESTED. -The demand for stores and dwellings continues unabated, and our real estate holders are still pursuing a short-nighted policy in not building upon their unoccupied land. It is a burning shame that nothing is done in the way of creeting additional business blocks and houses. To fillustrate how great the demand is for stores and bouses, we will give a few examples. sale house. Had $50,060 lying on deposit in banks for three months, waiting to secure a store. Not being able to find one, he left and went to New York. We know of a firm who came to this city with the expectation of going into business with a capitel of $40,000. Could not obtain a stere and they reluctantly left. A gentlemen from Boston came here for the purpose of opening a large wholosale store. Not getting a store, was obliged to go elsewhere. A gentlemen came to this city and went into business, expecting to rent a dwelling. Failed to got a house, and is obliged to live in Wellington, and come to the city on the cars and attend to his business. The above are only a few samples of what the city is losing for want of stores and houses. At the lowest estimate Cleveland good demand. is losing an increase of population equal to 5000 per annum for want of tenement facilities. There is no doubt if our real estate holders and espitalists would invest a million a year in business blocks and dwelling houses, our city would increase in population at the rate of 8,000 to 10,000 per annum. We again most respectfully call the attention of our land-helders to the necessity of moving in the matter.

THE DEPOT SCHLETURES.—We announced several days ago the fact that the Union Depot, now being butlt here, will be ornamented with ton or a dozen heads, symbolic and copies. One of these caputs has been already chiselled, on the keystone at the southwest corner of the building. It is a very fine looking head, and if it be that of on Indian, as was given out, it must stand for the head of an Indian of tradition, or at least of one who had found his place in poetry. The outline is too noble, and the features carry an expression altegether too exalted to comport with what our eyes have the previous week, as reported to the seen and our ears heard of the minerable Flat Trate, were as fellows: Heads, Big Feet, Sioux and Choctaw devils of our time. The head is as notile as that Flour, this ... of Gall or Humbeldt, and nothing but the school-boy style of westing the hair over barber shop. STREPLE MANIA.-The f of-passenger on Superior street, when he faces East, may see, far over the tree tops, a church steeple rising up grandly. This shaft is going up over St. Peter's Church. The building of the over-topping steeple on the Stone Church has created a kind of divine or at least plous furor in town, which contains just enough alloy of a worldly element to identity it as a piece of temporal ambition. Thus this steeple will raise its head just ten feet above the Stone Church steeple! Well, let the churches draw as nigh heaven as may be! Let not the skeptic twit us of disastrous Babel! The languages of the human family could not on a pinch be made more diversified than at present. Steeples, climb, and as old Horace would say, dare to touch the stars with your exalted head !

APPOINTMENT OF AN AUXILLIANT COMMIT-TER .- A meeting was held yesterday moruing in the parlors of the Stone Church, and a committee auxiliary to the American Christian Commission was organized. It consists of fifteen members, comprising the several prominent gentlemen of the city, the Chairman of which is Joseph Perkins, Erg. We were not able to secertain with positiveness the names of the gentlemen the committee, nor do we know the specific objects for which it was organized. It is designed to co-operate in a general way with the Christian Commission. We under stand that the committee d sign helding s necting to-morrow, when the province of the organization will be well defined.
